

ERD Exercise 2

---

ERD Exercise 2

Draw an ERD to deal with the below example situation. If there is any ambiguity in the description then you should make assumptions you consider reasonable, using notes to clarify how you have interpreted the description.

Exercise 2 - Spareparts Ltd.

Customers place orders with Spareparts Ltd. for a variety of parts. Each order identifies the parts required and the appropriate quantities. Spareparts meets the orders for the various parts by obtaining them from a range of suppliers. Each potential supplier of a part is requested to submit a quotation. The quotations are used to determine, for a given part, who the suppliers will be and how many units of a given part they will supply on a regular basis.